Junior High Students Achieve Excellent Results

A review of Grade IX results in the Departmental Examinations indicates that the students of D.V.J.H. excelled in academic achievement.

The number of honor students in the academic subjects far exceeded the provincial averages. In the province the percentage of students who attain an honors in any particular subject is 10%. The percentage of students in D.V.J.H. who attained honors in the various academic subjects averaged 16%. In the Reading Test, for example, 17% of the students of D.V.J.H. attained an honor standing.

Nine students received straight honors in the Departmental Examinations. This is about twice the number of students who attain straight honor standings according to provincial averages. Only the top 5% of Alberta students recieve an honor standing.

The number of students in D.V.J.H. who attained high enough marks in the Departmentals to qualify for a matriculation program in High School was well above provincial average.

HEALTH UNIT REPORT SHOWS SERVICE TO 25,000 PERSONS

AREA AND POPULATION

By Order in Council the Health Unit area has been increased from 11,000 to 14,000 square miles, creating Ward VI of the Health Unit, with that part of the Improvement District No. 16 lying South of Township 61 and the New Town of Grande Cache. With the establishment of County of Parkland, by agreement with the Stony Plain - Lac Ste. Anne Health Unit, the Towns of Drayton Valley and Lodgepole together with the territory of the former I.D. No. 77 and a part of the former I.D. No. 78 were retained in the Health Unit area.

According to the last census the population decreased from 22,752 in 1968 to 22,578 in 1969. However, the actual population at the end of 1969 appears to be in excess of 25,000 due to the rapid growth of the New Town of Grande Cache.

ACCOMMODATION

Three offices are maintained at the present time, the main office in Edson and sub-offices in Drayton Valley and Hinton. The space occupied by the sub-office in Drayton Valley is urgently needed by the Town and we are looking for new suitable accommodation.

Clinics at the New Town of Grande Cache were held temporarily at the Town Recreation Building. The opening of a permanent sub-office in Grande Cache is planned for the coming year.

PERSONNEL

The increase in the Health Unit area required the creation of new staff positions. With the appointment of Mr. W.H. Campbell to the position of Senior Public Health Inspector, Mr. B. Heard was hired as Public Health Inspector. One of his main duties being regular inspections in the New Town of Grande Cache and surrounding area.

The newly created position of a Staff Nurse, stationed in Grande Cache, will be filled early in 1970 and in the meantime clinics were held with Staff from the Main Office in Edson.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASES

With the exception of Infectious Hepatitis, no significant changes were noted in the number of cases of reported notifiable diseases.

Eighty-three cases of Infectious Hepatitis were reported during the year compared with twenty-eight in 1968. Most close contacts of these cases were given prophylactive doses of Gamma Globulin.

Health Unit Annual Report

SCHOOL HEALTH SERVICES

During the year 7,995 individual services by the Public Health Nurse were rendered to pupils. Routine vision and hearing tests as well as T.B. screening tests were performed. Formal teacher-nurse conferences and consultations were held for the benefit of the students.

The Medical Officer of Health examined 92 schooi children, 15 of them were referred for medical treatment. 541 pre-school physical examinations were performed most of them in the presence of a parent who was advised of any abnormal finding.

CLINIC SERVICES

Two hundred and fifty clinics were held during the year at different locations in the Health Unit area. The total attendance was 7,255 an average of 29 per clinic. Besides 541 pre-school children examined, 134 infants received a physical examination, most of them before commencing immunization.

While the immunization program for school children was for the most part carried out at school, infants, pre-school children and adults received their immunization at these clinics.

TUBERCULOSIS CONTROL

This program was continued as in previous years with routine skin testing of groups of school children, food handlers, teachers and bus drivers. Also tested were close contacts of known T.B. cases and positive reactors. All positive reactors were referred for further X-ray examination. The follow-up of discharged T.B. patients is carried out in conjunction with the Division of Tuberculosis Control.

ENVIRONMENTAL HYGIENE

During 1969 forty-seven public eating establishments were operating within the Health Unit area. A turn over of six operators took place which is considerably less than previous years. In general the standard of restaurants is good however constant vigilance is necessary in some cases.

Routine inspections of the numerous construction camps revealed a very good public health standard. With the modern type portable camps now available, first class accommodation and food service facilities can be provided. All summer camp grounds were regularly checked for water supplied, toilet facilities and garbage disposal.

All municipal water supplies have been routinely tested and all samples were found satisfactory. The number of requests for testing private supplies is steadily increasing which would suggest that people are becoming more conscious of water quality and pollution.

The number of public health nuisance complaints have increased by approximately 35% this year. The nature of these complaints would also indicate that the public is becoming very concerned about pollution in general.

Public swimming pools were operated in a very satisfactory manner under the control of well qualified personnel. Frequent water samples were taken and revealed the absence of Coliforms in all cases.

On September 1, 1969 the Department of Agriculture took over the inspections of dairy farms within our Health Unit. This is in conjunction with transfer of Fluid Milk Farm Inspection from Public Health to Agriculture. The Department of Agriculture will have responsibility for inspection up to and including the milk plant and Health will be responsible for inspection from the milk plant to the consumer. The local health authority is responsible for the issurance of all certificates of registration to milk producers.

VITAL STATISTICS

Of 448 births in the Health Unit last year all were born in hospital with the exception of two. There were 31 premature births and nine still births.

There were 107 deaths last year in the unit.

The flight of quarters at the club last week were mostly in the direction of Bill Rose who peeled 3 or 4 strokes off his normal round and shot a cool 36. Ken Gillis recorded a par 35 and took home a pocket of change.

POLLUTION: Something Can be Done!

PESTICIDES — REASON OR PANIC

For several months now an increasing number of people and organizations have clambered aboard the anti-pollution wagon to ban pesticides. The news media has given these "instant specialists" headline priority with statements that pesticides are poisoning not only our food, but also our total environment. Is this fact or fiction, reason or emotion? Has anyone asked for proof?

Individual and public concern about pollution and the wise use of our natural resources is commendable, says Joe Gurba, head of Alberta's crop protection and pest control branch, but hysterical statements and scare headlines can cause unreasonable action and panic legislation. He points out that many well-intentioned protesters have little factual knowledge about pesticides, most of which are necessary for modern rural and urban living.

For example, insecticides like DDT are necessary to control cutworms, grasshoppers, cockroaches, bed bugs, flies and mosquitoes. Rodenticides such as warfarin are used to control gophers, mice and rats, while herbicides like 2,4-D are needed to control thistles and other weeds in lawns, parks, gardens and crops. Germicides, which include fungicides and bacteriacides, are essential for controlling rusts, smuts, molds, rots and other disease in field crops, gardens, food plants, cafes and hospitals.

The question is are these pesticides at fault or is it our management of them that is at fault? According to Mr. Gurba, most of the pesticide problems that have occurred in the past have been a direct result or over-use or misuse. He points out that such problems will not be resolved by merely banning pesticides like DDT and mercury. In fact, action of this kind could be misleading unless the compounds that take their place are safer in most respects. Although the majority of the alternatives have shorter lasting effects, Mr. Gurba explains that they present other problems. Heavier doses and repeated applications are required and less is known about them. In addition, they are more expensive, less effective and more toxic to human beings.

Last February the Alberta Government tabled a report in the legislature entitled "Summary Statement on Pesticides and Mercury in Alberta". It is available to the general public and contains results of surveys and information on monitoring, pesticide investigations, training programs, licensing and regulations.

"Since 1961 monitoring and residue analysis for pesticides has been carried out on thousands of samples in Alberta. DDT has not posed a problem to human health nor, to any extent, to fish and wildlife.

"DDT has not been banned but severely restricted by both the Canadian and U.S. governments. Alberta supports the program to phase out DDT this year. Elimination of its use from 62 to only a few food crops and the ban on its use for mosquitoes and forest insects in large area programs will reduce its already limited use in this province by a further 90 per cent.

"DDT supplies are small in Alberta, mostly in garden-sized packs. It is recommended that any remaining stocks be used up according to label direction. This method of disposal is considered the best because DDT breaks down quickest when exposed to the elements. If DDT is collected and buried, it will result in large concentrations of the chemical in centralized areas.

"Like DDT, the other persistent organo chlorine insecticides such as aldrin, dieldrin, endrin and heptachlor have been mainly replaced over the years with shorter-lasting organo-phosphates and carbamates.

"Mercury seed treatment fungicides have been recognized as a hazard to people and farm animals for many years, and the necessary precautions taken. Although the problem in game birds was discovered only recently, it has, no doubt, existed to some degree during the 35 years that seed has been treated with mercury.

"Mercury investigations and precautions against its mis-use will continue during 1970. Treated grain that has been spilled during transportation, handling and seeding operations and the improper disposal of treated seed are considered the main sources of mercury contamination in pheasants and other forms of wildlife.

"The use of mercury for seed treatment decreased considerably this spring. Government field tests show that several liquid non-mercurials show promise as replacements for the mercury compounds. In the meantime many farmers are applying non-mercurial powder formulations which, unfortunately, pose a dust hazard to the user.

"The new Agricultural Chemicals Act and regulations provides the provincial and local governments with the mechanisms to better manage the use, application, handling, transportation and disposal of pesticides."

The proper use of pesticides in the future, says Mr. Gurba, will depend upon the sustained action of government agencies and the general public rather than on bans and scare tactics. What we need is a better understanding of effective but safe use of pesticides, and the support of all concerned.

Road Habits Improving?

Our long weekend holiday didn't involve much driving but a trip to Edmonton and back gave us the impression that traffic safety messages appear to be finally having an effect on motorists who seemed to be conducting themselves in a better than usual manner.

The family car-counter tallied up 2,000 plus cars between Edmonton and Entwistle, all moving normally with a noticeable absence of speeders dodging in and out. The presence of a number of R.C.M.P. patrol cars probably accounted for some of the careful driving, but hopefully, the majority have recognized the hazard and altered their driving habits accordingly.

Long Weekends Kill Us

Long summer weekends in the sun are great -- but they certainly wreck the printing programs of weekly newspapers. We usually have our share of problems getting out a paper on a normal week and when a holiday takes the Monday out of our schedule the task becomes formidable.

Wednesday is devoted to printing and mailing and today (Tuesday) we were greeted with a load of weekend mail and a pile of work to dispose of in half the usual time. Sunburned faces are now bent over their tasks and although it's going to be a long day, we'll probably make the deadline. Our rushed efforts after holiday weekends usually fall a little short of what we would like to achieve and if something you expected to see this week fails to appear we hope you will understand.

Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow

There are two days in every week about which we should not worry -- two days which should be kept free from fear and apprehension.

One of these days is yesterday with its mistakes and cares, its faults and blunders. All the money in the world cannot bring back yesterday.

The other day we should not worry about is tomorrow with its possible adversities, its burdens, its large promise and poor performance. Tomorrow also is beyond our immediate control. Tomorrow's sun will rise either in splendour or behind a mask of clouds -- but it will rise. Until it does, we have no stake in tomorrow, for it is as yet unborn.

That leaves only one day -- today. Any man can fight the battles of just one day. It is only when you and I add the burdens of those two awful eternities -- yesterday and tomorrow -- that we break down.

It is not the experience of today that drives man mad -- it is remorse or bitterness for something which happened yesterday and the dread of what tomorrow may bring. Let us, therefore, journey, but one day at a time.

Tomahawk F.W.U.A. 10th Anniversary

MRS. MARCIA ZUTZ Club Reporter

May is an important month for the Tomahawk F.W.U.A. as 1970 marks the 10th anniversary of our joining the F.W.U.A. Much has happened in the past 10 years and many farm women have belonged to this organization. At present our membership numbers 20 with Velda Jouan as President and Marion Jouan as secretary-treasurer. We hope to continue for many more years. Anyone is welcome to attend our meetings and we always like new members.

Many of the women attended the F.W.U.A. convention held at Stony Plain last month. Our F.W.U.A. Director, Mrs. Maxfield was there and the women reported it very interesting.

We would like to thank everyone who attended our Mother's Day bazaar and tea which was held on Friday, May 8th. It was most successful and many people were in attendance. The bazaar table held many varied items. The most popular were the aprons and many of them became Mother's Day gifts. The bake table went very fast and items receiving quickest purchase were the homemade bread and buns.

There was a fish pond for the youngsters and it was very popular.

Two films were later shown. One film was on lung cancer and the other on alcohol. They were enjoyed by all, although the operation on a cancerous lung proved to be a bit too realistic for many.

The club cleared $90 and this will be most useful during the coming year.

Once again, thank you to everyone who helped make it such a success.

One of our members, Mrs. Lydia Reich is leaving for Europe on May 29th. We all wish her a most happy and relaxed time.

Our next meeting will be held on May 28th in the evening at the home of Lina Zaniewicz. There will be a plant exchange.

A farewell party was held on May 9th in honor of Marlyne and Ed Nelson who are moving to Claresholm. The friends and neighbors who gathered in the Entwistle Hall left very little room for dancing. The committee wish to thank those who donated, worked or helped in any way for their effort towards the home and school.

D. V. Highlights

By Mrs. Edith Deby

Mr. Eric Edholm is to realize a long anticipated treat this summer when he will visit his native Sweden.

Very much enjoyed a chat with Mrs. Zolmer last week. The Zolmers were to leave the next day for a leisurely trip through B.C. and perhaps to some American points as well.

Best wishes for future happiness are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nixon who were married in Drayton Valley last Friday. Mrs. Nixon, the former Miss Joyce Maunsell - Wyberants, is from Camwood. The couple will reside in Lindale.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyall Beckett have purchased Oscar Johnson's east quarter. It was owned by Clarence Sjerdahl at one time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ian Hoyland welcomed their chosen son, Scott, aged fourteen months, last week. He is a brother for Kathy and Jennifer.

Chubby Brownbill and Stanley Pickovance are coming back to us. Neither found Creston to his liking. At present the gentlemen are negotiating for a farm in the Violet Grove district.

Edwin Eriksson is the son and the grandson of Drayton Valley pioneers. Perhaps this is the reason he is especially interested in the Royal Purple's proposed Senior Citizen's Home. Because he feels that no one is going to the bank with a small donation, Edwin has placed a box for such contributions in his store, The Eriksson Music Centre.

Welcome back, Mr. and Mrs. Duperron, we all knew you couldn't stay away.

The Town Hall is usually a quiet, orderly place with each employee going busily about his appointed task. Last week the serene routine was blasted (literally) when a tear gas bomb exploded accidentally in a basement cell. Chief Doig snatched up the offending missile and with a skill a running football player might well envy, dashed for the outdoors, with the bomb spewing its fumes liberally all the way. Chief Doig deposited the bomb well away from the building beside the Anglican Church fence and left it to fizzle out its life harmlessly. The matter didn't quite end there, however. Still potent fumes crept gently down wind across Reverend Gordon Ingram's lawn and into his study window forcing an immediate evacuation of Mr. Ingram and two guests.

Traffic Officer (stopping motorist): "Sir, your wife fell out of the car three blocks back."

Motorist: "So that's it. I thought I had gone stone deaf."

Before you spend over $4500 on a car

It doesn't have all sorts of optional extras, because everything on it but a 3-speed automatic transmission and a radio is standard equipment. Like carpet, flow-through ventilation, front disc brakes, bucket seats, whitewalls and textured vinyl upholstery.

More important, a Datsun 1600 will go anywhere a big car will go and a lot of places a big car can't. And on the way there, it will give you up to thirty-five miles for a gallon of gas and around 100,000 miles between major overhauls.

For around $4500 you get twin 2-door 1600's. Or a wagon and a 2-door. Or two 4-doors. Or just one Datsun and a bundle for your bank. No matter which way you do it you win, when you think about it.

Breton F.G.A. Plans Buck Lake Derby

The Breton and District Fish and Game Association has announced plans for a four-day fish derby to be held at Buck Lake in June with more than $500 in cash prizes available to lucky anglers.

Named the Buck Mountain Fish Derby, the event will take place from June 12th to 15th. For the past two years the club has staged one-day derbies at the lake and this is the first attempt at the larger scale undertaking.

Prizes of $100.00, $35.00 and $20.00 are being offered in three classes, pike, walleye and perch. Prizes are also to be awarded for the largest fish taken each day.

Buck Mountain, which gave its name to the derby, is a small mountain approximately three miles north of Buck Lake. For many years, going back to the first logging operations in the area, the mountain has been used as the site of a Forestry look-out tower.

Buck Lake is a good walleye lake and in winter many fishermen can be seen on the ice angling for whitefish. The provincial trophy for whitefish was won in 1969 by a member of the Breton F.G.A. who caught the fish last winter in Buck Lake.

Many large northern pike have been taken from the lake, and perch, although not as plentiful, are generally quite large. Occasional bull trout have also been taken from the lake.

Skaters Urged to Get School Applications in

At a recent meeting of the figure skating club, it was reported that registrations for the summer skating school were filling up gradually. Mrs. Simpson requested that anyone planning on registering should do so as soon as possible.

Due to the possibility of a postal strike, applicants are urged to mail registrations as quickly as possible.

The school will be offering group instruction at the National Test level and also in the Preliminary Figure of the CFSA program. These lessons of course will be less costly than the usual individual lessons.

It was moved and carried that five handbooks and two or three rule books be purchased by the club for the use of the judges.

Mrs. Rose Wickland was asked to head a committee to enter a float in the rodeo parade on June 13th.

It was reported that the costumes are now all catalogued. A 78% passing average during the past season attained by the club. A $220 profit was realized from the recent raffle. A complete financial report on the carnival was not yet available.

The club voted to give the summer skating school financial support up to $1200 providing this support is necessary.

The club voted to have Mr. Russ Simpson audit the books again.

September 19th and 22nd were named as registration days for the next winter season. Fees for winter skating were discussed and it was felt that due to the fact that some skaters progress so rapidly through the National Test system a new scale of fees would be presented in the fall.

The constitution was discussed and a few amendments were made. Mrs. Gwen Simpson was named as delegate to the CFSA convention.

ALDER FLATS NEWS

There was a good turnout for the sports day Monday, the weather was quite pleasant and everyone seemed to enjoy the days events, winners names in the various events will be in next weeks paper.

Ben Jeffcott has vegetable marrows growing on his plants already, when most of us are just thinking of buying the seeds for our garden. Of course these plants are inside, but never the less it takes a bit of a green thumb to accomplish this.

On May 5th, Mrs. Kathleen Kiss took her daughter Kathy and Sally Speakman into Edmonton where they registered for a six week course at the Composite High School starting July 2nd. Before marriage, he talked, and she listened. On the honeymoon, she talked and he listened. And now, after several years of marriage, they both talk and the neighbors listen.

SUB-MITS

FROM THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Display Day was again a success. From the teachers' viewpoint it was gratifying to know that so many parents came to see their children's work. We, too, enjoyed seeing what our colleagues are doing. Of special interest were the TV tapings of various classrooms in action and the recording of grade one singing.

Your comments were appreciated. Aproximately 300 adults signed the guest book.

Wanted: Old clocks to help teach time in various classrooms. The hands should turn. Just send them to school and we'll see if we can make up a classroom lot.

The Grade five classes will be taking part in the Junior High Track meet on Friday, May 22nd at the Lion's Park. This school will be joining the Junior High in competition with other schools. Come and see our athletes do their best.

The grade one, two, three and four Field and Track Day is scheduled for Thursday, June 11th.

Did you hear the story of one of Miss Madsen's grade one boys who took a bottle of cod liver pills to school and gave them to his classmates. It seems someone told him the pills would speed you up. All this without his mother's or teacher's knowledge.

She gave a wonderful report which was so informative and interesting. Plans were made for making a quilt and also for a surprise tea for one of the members who was not present.

The roll call was "Pennies for Friendship". This was with each member having their arm measured and each paid the penny an inch.

The next meeting will be held at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. J. Labuda on June 10th. The meeting closed with a good old fashioned spelling bee.

A lovely lunch was served by Mrs. Freida Woollard and the co-hostess Mrs. D. M. Roberts. Winner of the tea prize was Mrs. H. Miller.

A special thank you goes to the canvassers who gave so freely of their time and effort to make this campaign such a great success. The amount of $939.86 was realized this year. Montreal Important Market for Alberta Beef

Canada's relationship with the United States has been likened to that of an elephant and a flea sharing the same bed. Thus, every time the elephant twitches even the smalled muscle the flea reacts violently.

Such domination of our country by the U.S. is now accepted by Canadian business, but how many Alberta cattlemen realize how vulnerable they are to the twitchings of another elephant known as the eastern Canadian consumer? How many realize that the price they receive for their cattle is closely tied to long-established but not necessarily efficient beef handling and distributing techniques?

How many understand how the competition between corporate chains, voluntary chains, meat wholesalers, meat brokers and national packers affects them? How many are aware that changing consumer demands, increased shipping costs and changing merchandizing methods could seriously affect markets which they now enjoy in Canada's populous heartland?

A detailed study of the Montreal wholesale meat trade by two University of Alberta farm economists not only describes some of the workings of that city's complicated meat handling and distributing system, but also helps explain some of the factors that affect beef prices in Alberta.

The bulletin, entitled "A Study of the Montreal Wholesale Beef Trade", and distributed by the University of Alberta's extension department, has packed a great deal of important information into a few pages. The authors have attempted to provide background information that was badly needed and their publication should be recommended reading for any producer or person interested in the meat trade in western Canada.

The writers, Dr. M.H. Hawkins and Dr. T.W. Manning, point out that more than 50 percent of the cattle slaughtered in Alberta are exported, which is an indication of the province's dependence on outside markets. They also note that between 40 and 50 per cent of the 200 or more carloads of beef entering the Montreal market each week originate in Alberta.

In contrast to western Canada where they kill and distribute most of the beef, national packing firms distribute only about 18 per cent of Montreal's supplies. By far the largest amount (50 to 60 per cent) is distributed by beef wholesalers.

These wholesalers, recently organized into their own association, were originally formed to counterbalance the power of national packing firms and large corporate chains. They exert a strong influence on pricing, shrinkage allowances, warehousing and so on. They also act as a major source of many kinds of information relating to the meat business.

An estimated 30 per cent of all the meat purchased by wholesalers is handled through meat brokers. The broker acts as a negotiator between the packers and the wholesalers and appears to play a fundamental role in the process of establishing prices.

In their study the Alberta economists learned that there is considerable variation in the methods used by retail stores to obtain their beef. Not all corporate chains have their own meat warehouses and at present obtain their requirements only as required from the packers. The three largest corporate chains are reluctant to buy their beef on the basis of present grade specifications and indicate they might not do so even if new grading standards are introduced in the future.

Volunteer or independent store chains are growing stronger and exerting more influence on the meat trade and beef distribution system. Some have adopted centralized beef selection and buying, and others have indicated that they are considering similar moves.

The bulletin suggests that a number of changes under way or about to take place will have a strong bearing on Alberta beef prices. For example, it is to be hoped that warehousing and distribution facilities will be expanded because many Alberta plants operate on a kill and ship basis and have no facilities for holding beef for aging.

At present wholesalers, retail chains and the national packing firms dominate the wholesale meat trade in Montreal. Each segment plays an important role in establishing prices and this works to the advantage of Alberta cattle producers. The elimination of one or more of these segments would lessen the competition and leave the surviving segment in a favorable position in setting prices.

In their conclusion the University of Alberta economists concede that Alberta cattle producers have a large stake in future developments of the important Montreal beef market. The changes that are now taking place or that will take place, and the periodic muscle twitches caused by these changes, will most assuredly be felt by cattlemen operating in Alberta.

10,907 Demerit Points In April

Hon. Gordon E. Taylor, Alberta Minister of Highways and Transport has announced that during the first full month of operation of the Driver Demerit System that no person in the province reached 15 demerit points; one person reached more than eight demerit points, and consequently a warning letter was sent to him.

During the month of April, there were 4,087 convictions, totalling 10,907 demerit points.

Under the demerit system, approximately 40% of the convictions were for speeding between ten and 20 miles per hour over the limit.

LONG HAIR HURTS CHANCES

Business officials appear to be giving little ground to the mini-skirted and long-haired youth presenting itself for job interviews, says a report in the Canadian business publication, Office Equipment & Methods. According to a recent North American survey, most still refuse to hire a bearded applicant (80%) although this same number would not object to a growth on an already-hired staff member -- except in "extreme cases".

Almost 60% would be likely to reject a woman applicant in a mini-skirt, whereas 45% say they would have no objection to mini-clad employees.

Ninety percent would turn down a male applicant with shoulder length hair and the same percentage would object to its appearance on staff members. There was no objection at all to sideburns and moustaches.

INFORMATION SUPPLIED BY FOREST SERVICE LODGEPOLE

The Homemaker

Mrs. Sheila Brown

LET'S HAVE A BAR-B-Q -- Two weeks ago the barbequing started at our house -- how about yours? With this being the long weekend, I thought many of you may be turning to the outdoors for family meals.

Here are some timely tips for this ever-so-popular summer food fare: If you are an old hand at barbequing, you already know that it is best to keep the menu simple and to plan it so that everyone can start eating at the same time. Practically any of the meats you broil or fry in the kitchen can be grill-barbequed successfully and tender roasts and poultry make elegant eating when barbequed on a spit. For kabobs and individual foilwrapped dinners, be sure to select foods that cook in the same length of time.

Half the fun of barbeque cooking is in experimenting with various kinds and cuts of meats. The best meats to start with are the ones that are naturally tender and usually cooked by dry heat. These include wieners, hamburgers, spareribs, ham slices, chops and steaks such as sirloin and T-bone.

To avoid spattering during cooking, trim most of the fat off the meat. Score the edges so that the meat will stay flat.

Grease the grill to keep the meat from sticking. Sear meat quickly on both sides and baste with a barbeque sauce, if desired. After basting one side, let meat cook for a few minutes before turning to baste the other side. Always use tongs for turning meat, as a fork makes a hole though which juices escape. Cook to the desired doneness. The time this will take depends mainly on the thickness of the meat and how close it is to the coals. Your best bet is to make a small cut near a bone or near the center of the meat and judge the doneness by the color.

KABOBS -- May look glamorous and elaborate but actually they are very simple to make. For most kinds you need only ordinary, everyday foods; the secret is in matching complementary colors and flavors. It's fun to have a make-your-own kabob party and let your guests choose their own combinations of foods to be skewered and barbequed. Use only tender cuts of meat in kabobs. Dip skewers in oil or rub with fat to keep foods from sticking to them.

Now that I have you thinking about barbequing, how are chances of tantalizing your appetite with recipes such as "Mexicali Salad","Texas Corn", "Long Boy Garlic Loaf", "Chicken Dinner in a Placket"."Scallop Kabobs". These recipes and many more are available from the South Edmonton office, 10426 - 81st Avenue; 433-8060. Why not contact us by phone or mail and receive your free copy of "Barbeque Cooking".

BERRYMOOR NEWS

Mrs. Helen Anderson has had her sister, Mrs. May Jorgenson of Warburg as a guest in her home for a few days.

A bridal shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thatcher, on the evening of May 9th for Ed Roberts and his fiance. A good crowd was in attendance and the young couple received an assortment of lovely gifts, for which they graciously thanked everyone present. Their wedding will take place May 16.

A very successful auction sale of home sewing and baked goods was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Campbell on the evening of May 8th. All the items offered for sale were made by members of the W.A. of the Berrymoor Pentecostal Church. Mrs. Gladys Paul of Thorsby was the auctioneer and did a very efficient job. Mrs. Paul is familiar to many of us as the "Tupperware lady". A vote of thanks goes to everyone who helped to make this sale such a success.

Congratulations to Dennis Haight and his chum who completed the course in the recent "Miles for Millions" march held in Edmonton. This feat assumes much greater proportions when it is realized that Dennis is confined to a wheelchair. Twenty-five miles is quite a walk, imagine doing it in a wheel-chair.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Joneson and son of Wainwright spent the weekend at their cabin on D. Martin's farm.

Miss Dianne Haight is at home having completed her term at the University of Alberta for this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Tryon and daughter Tammie, were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Martin.

The sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin held a family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Martin on Sunday. Their purpose, to make plans to help their parents celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary, which comes up soon.

BUCK CREEK NEWS

Miss Sherry Stec is home from the hospital after having spent a few days as a patient.

The children in the Buck Creek School enjoyed an unscheduled holiday this past week when the water system failed in the school.

The next Community Club Bingo will be held on June 4th, in the hall. The Jackpot is now $58.00.

What do we know about the special qualities of gasoline? We know it is extremely powerful and that it must be handled with special care. Oil companies and dealers take very special care in handling gasoline. Now it is of equal concern to have all the users well informed and to accomplish this, the Province has enacted fire regulations to guarantee the safe storage and handling at fuel warehouses and retail outlets.

Every service station operator must know the provisions of the Alberta Fire Regulations otherwise he may unwittingly allow careless handling of gasoline. Recently there have been prosecutions for careless overfilling of underground gasoline storage tanks and also for not placing danger labels on portable containers being filled at service stations.

Service and safety should go hand in hand when the product being sold is this very volatile and explosive fuel, gasoline. Ask your service station operator for his advice on safe handling of gasoline.
